

Innovative Software for your Business

Software Development & Consulting

Turnford is comprised of a team of business and Information Technology (IT) professionals with an in-depth knowledge of business processes. We have a detailed understanding of both core-business systems and the latest software development tools. The principals of Turnford have many years of experience in developing systems with major financial institutions and other businesses both in Europe and North America.

Unlike many technology firms, we are not solely focused on technology. With a long track record in our core industries, we focus on your business requirements and use that insight to implement solutions that deliver direct business results. With over two decades of experience servicing global and mid-market firms alike, we understand how technology can yield a positive impact on your results.

We are driven by quality work and professionalism

Our customers are at the centre of our thinking and we unite with them to achieve mutual success. By actively listening, we understand our customers' aims, the challenges that they face, and can help them be successful.

Turnford prides itself on its honesty and ongoing client communication. We provide access so you can watch our progress as we complete your assignments.

Combining our industry insight and business acumen with our knowledge of systems and IT tools, Turnford is uniquely positioned to work with you to maximize the potential of any project.

Custom Development Services

Turnford's custom development services are designed to deliver tailored solutions when off-the-shelf software does not provide the level of flexibility and functionality that our clients require.

First, we ensure that we have an in-depth understanding of your business needs and goals. Then we develop a custom solution for your specific business requirements, leveraging our pre-written modules where appropriate.

Let Turnford translate your business processes into technology today. For more information on our services, email us at info@turnford.com or call us at (905) 315-7393.

Our developments follow a defined course of:

- Definition of concepts
- Review of business requirements
- Review of existing systems and processes
- Definition of requirements
- System design and test plan
- Development
- Quality assurance
- Implementation
- Training and ongoing support

Our focus is solving problems as opposed to selling technology.

We work closely with our clients to define requirements before designing a solution. We address business processes up front to deliver improvements, and by participating through envisioning and implementation we bring increased accountability and risk sharing to our clients' projects.

Throughout the course of a project our practical, professional team keeps the client fully informed of the status.
